Fang Baochu, author of the sequel to the genealogy of the Fang clan in Lijiang

The Fang Family Genealogy, edited by Fang Yingxiang and jointly produced by Fang Zheng and Fang Fang, was completed in December 2001 and is now 25 years old.

The compilation of the "Jiang Fang Clan Genealogy" ends with the sixth generation of the Fang clan in Lijiang. Over time, the Fang family has expanded to the seventh and eighth generations.

To promote the treasures of Chinese culture and preserve the family's historical memory, the family genealogy was completed by the sixth generation, who, in their seventies, continued to compile the historical achievements of the seventh generation. It ensures that everyone remembers the family history, cherishes family unity, and works together diligently.

The revised Fang family genealogy focuses more on reflecting and recording the bloodline and kinship relationships. The seven generations of the Fang family are arranged according to their birth dates. Marriages are also included.

The biographies of the ten children of the late Dr. Bao Xian and Dr. Se Fei, who lived in the United States, were sent to Li Guang Yi by their eldest daughter Fang Jia Pei. They were translated into Chinese and used as basic information.

The seventh ancestor of the sixth generation of the Lijiang Fang Family, Fang Ying Xiang provided revision suggestions three times for the Sequel edition.

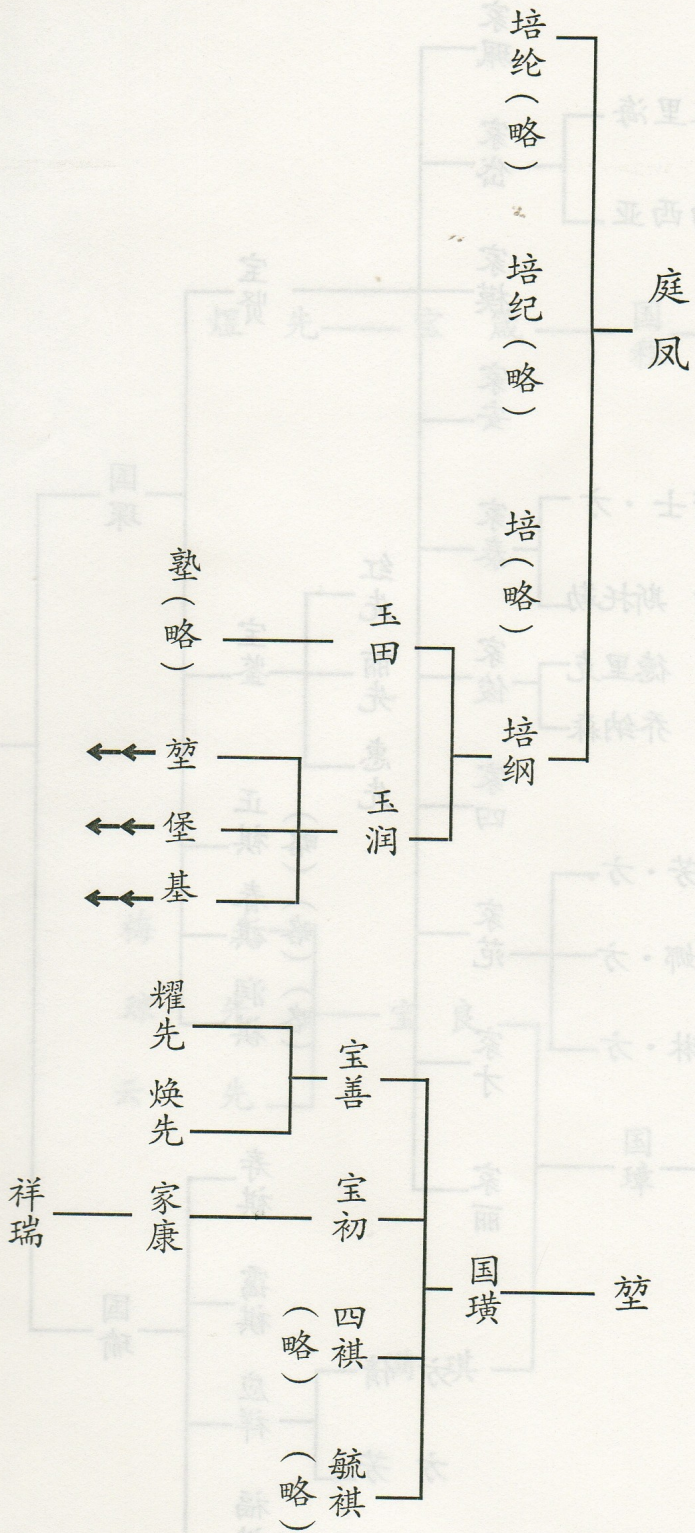

In addition according to the information they possess, the seventh generation spouses and children also were included in the genealogy. Relatives outside the family name are listed in an appendix, arranged in order of gender and age.

Heaven and earth are full of love, and humanity is full of affection. May the Fang family, generation after generation, inherit their family traditions and values, and carry forward their legacy. Do good deeds in good times, and cultivate self-respect in adversity. Motivate yourself and dedicate yourself to society. Be talented individuals who are dedicated to serving the people and their families and are determined to make a difference.
